

Dean & Allyn, Inc is an established, full-service fire protection contractor looking for a qualified fire protection designer or engineer. We are a small business, family-oriented environment; and we take pride in attracting, employing, training and keeping the best workers the fire protection industry has to offer. As a growing company we are always searching for driven, knowledgeable and efficient individuals to join our team. Submit your resume today to Christopher Stewart (CStewart@deanandallyn.com), or visit our website to apply (http://deanandallyn.net/career_opportunities)

Responsibilities:

- Prepares code-compliant fire protection drawings for AHJ approval and installation
- Coordinates with other trades
- Visits job sites to survey conditions and improve design
- Performs hydraulic calculations
- Produces stock list for material required throughout job progression
- Creates project submittal packages for owner/architect review
- Attends pertinent construction meetings during progress of project
- Develops positive relationships with coworkers and customers

Qualifications:

- Thorough knowledge of AutoCAD programs
- Exposure to HydraCAD software is beneficial
- Understands building construction and terminology
- NICET certification is a plus (We will work with you to achieve this)
- Ability to perform work in a timely manner
- Detail-oriented and organized
- Good communication skills
- Must be willing to work with others and coordinate with other in-house departments
- Entry level position is available with training. Must have knowledge of AutoCAD/building construction

What we offer:

- Competitive wages
- Paid Holidays
- Paid Vacation
- Paid Sick Leave
- Medical Insurance
- Dental Insurance
- Disability Insurance