

09/23/2019

Directorate of Public Works Fire Protection Engineer GS-13 Steps 1-10

LOCATION: REDSTONE ARSENAL, AL
Region: SOUTH CENTRAL Command

2019 Salary: $91,396 to $118,812 depending on experience

Education and Registration

1. Must be a Registered Professional Engineer or within 1 year of becoming a Registered Professional Engineer in Fire Protection.

2. Must have passed the fire protection engineering written examination administered by the National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying (NCEES).

3. Must be an engineer graduate of an Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, (ABET) approved college in Engineering.

Duties:

1. Serve as the command fire protection engineer with responsibility for developing procedures, methods, designs, plans, and specifications for fire prevention, fire protection, and fire detection of major size and complexity for use in a wide variety of installation facilities.

2. Serve as engineering consultant and advisor to the Command Group, Project Managers, Commodity Managers, personnel of the various directorates, joint task force groups, and contractors in order to furnish interpretations and technical guidance on fire prevention operations, practices, techniques, procedures, national codes, etc., in support of the planning, criteria development, engineering design, and construction oversight for the repair and improvement of existing facilities and for the construction of new facilities such as various types of administrative support buildings, missile research and development facilities, anechoic chambers, laboratories, industrial facilities, and institutional facilities.

3. Serve as review authority in connection with procurement and development of fire prevention facilities, equipment, and methods; planning; criteria development; on-and off-post engineering design; and construction oversight for repair and improvement of existing facilities and for the construction of new facilities.