

Recruiting an entry level - 2 years' experience FPE for a well-known and respected firm dedicated solely to fire protection engineering. They are offering the option to work from a home office on a permanent basis. No relocation needed.

Their mission is to provide their clients with creative solutions to their commercial fire protection needs for various types of facilities including high-rise offices, warehouses and distribution centers, data processing operations, manufacturing facilities, hotels, educational facilities, aircraft hangars, and telecommunication hubs.

Over the 25+ years that my client has been providing fire protection code consulting services, they have been able to form many strong and trusted relationships. They successfully deliver measurable value through an innovative design and problem-solving approach and by staying abreast of the continual developments in building and fire codes, fire protection engineering techniques, and fire protection equipment technology.

Would you like to hear more about this excellent opportunity? If so, please let me know and I can give you more details.

Thank you!
